Couch

Couch is a versatile and very comfortable modular sofa with endless possibilities. Link the different modules as you like and create combinations that suit your needs. The sofa is classic modern in its expression and matches several different environments. The linking system is easy to manage and enables repositioning when needed. Easy to clean both underneath and on top. The possible attachment of side tables increases the sofa's applications and makes it a perfect solution for every space where comfort, functionality and an aesthetic input is needed.

Designed by Morten Voss

The overall objective of designer Morten Voss' design is to create functional and aesthetic added value. This occurs, when known forms and materials are combined in new ways. Hence, original and supple entireties arise - entireties, whose functional and aesthetic value surpasses the sum of the individual parts.
