Jive

Jive is a high quality lounge chair. The shell is divided into two parts that shawls gently around the user and makes the seating experience very comfortable.

Designed by Anders Nørgaard

Anders Nørgaard moves from the chaotic to the stringent interior. Detail and function must go hand in hand, so the design stands out and is usable. "When you are no longer troubled to draw the next line on the paper, when you know how to move on, then the thought is optimal and the design complete". Anders Nørgaards wants to feel the things and follow their making and his objective is always to produce designs that are alive and functional - beautiful and stringent.
