

Ziggi

+Halle®

Ziggi

Ziggi is a simple daybed that suits all types of modern spaces. Use it alone as a free standing part of the interior or link several units to create a long and very unique seating formation. The optional armrests and tables are flexible and add function to the daybed as they allow the user to eat, sleep, relax or sit as desired. Moreover, the tables function as linking devices and add a dynamic look and feel to the entire expression.

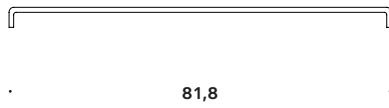

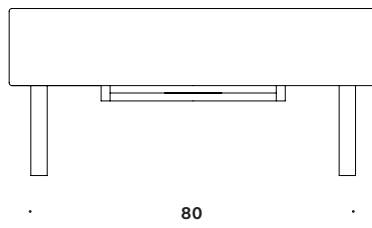

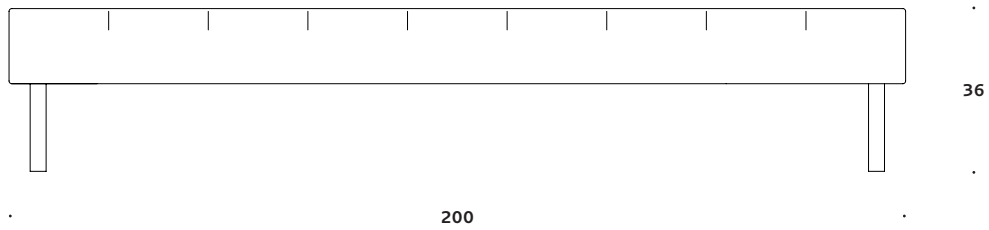

Designed by Flemming Busk

Flemming Busk is a talented and experienced Danish designer with a master in architecture and design. He strives to design furniture that suits human needs and gives life to the spaces where it is used - in terms of aesthetics and functionality. Busk is now part of the design duo busk+hertzog.
